Annex 1

List Entry

List Entry Summary
This building is listed under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 as amended for its special architectural or historic interest.

Name: HMS Eurydice Memorial

List Entry Number: 1428092

Location
HMS Eurydice Memorial, Clayhall Royal Naval Cemetery, Clayhall Road, Gosport, Hampshire, PO12 2BE

The building may lie within the boundary of more than one authority.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>County</th>
<th>District</th>
<th>District Type</th>
<th>Parish</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Hampshire</td>
<td>Gosport</td>
<td>District Authority</td>
<td>Non Civil Parish</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

National Park: Not applicable to this List entry.

Grade: II*

Date first listed:

Date of most recent amendment:

Legacy System Information
The contents of this record have been generated from a legacy data system.

Legacy System: Not applicable to this List entry.
Legacy Number: Not applicable to this List entry.

Asset Groupings
This List entry does not comprise part of an Asset Grouping. Asset Groupings are not part of the official record but are added later for information.

List Entry Description

Summary of Building
Memorial of 1878 to the foundered ship HMS Eurydice.

Reasons for Designation
The memorial to HMS Eurydice of 1878 is listed at Grade II* for the following principal reasons:

* Historic interest: for its commemoration of one of the worst naval disasters in peacetime, in which hundreds of men lost their lives and which caused a change in naval training methods;
Artistic value: a powerful memorial on a monumental scale, which incorporates the anchor of the foundered ship.
* Group value: for its place in the Royal Naval Cemetery and its relationship with the other listed memorials and the cemetery chapel, and within the wider naval landscapes of Haslar, Gosport and Portsmouth.

History
HMS Eurydice was launched in 1843; she was a 26 gun-frigate designed by Admiral George Elliot and initially sailed under the command of his son in American and West Indian waters. Considered to be one of the fastest of her type, she was designed with a shallow draught and broad sails. As the C19 progressed the increased use of metal for ship construction rendered the timber-hulled Eurydice outdated for warfare, and in 1861 she became a stationary training vessel. After a refit she set sail from Portsmouth in November 1877, carrying c300 ordinary seamen on a lengthy voyage across the Atlantic. She returned in March the following year and was within eyeshot of her destination when she was caught in a blizzard off the Isle of Wight. What her shallow hull added in speed it took from stability, and she capsized and quickly sank; all but two of her crew of 364 lost their lives, going down with the ship or perishing in the freezing waters.

A young Winston Churchill was witness to the disaster, at that time living in Ventnor with his parents.

The loss of the Eurydice is one of the worst British naval disasters to have occurred during peace time. It caused the Royal Navy to abandon sail training, leading to the abandonment of the use of traditional man-of-war ships. A memorial to lives lost was erected at the Royal Naval Cemetery at Haslar, with the ship’s anchor set into the stone.

Several phantom sightings of the lost ship have been made: in the 1930s a Gosport-based submarine was set on an evasive course to avoid colliding with a full rigged ship, which seconds later disappeared, and in the 1990s it was spotted by Prince Edward.

Details
Memorial to a foundered ship, 1878.

MATERIALS and PLAN: a dressed grey granite base, rectangular in plan, with a limestone sculpture into which the ship’s anchor is set.

DESCRIPTION: there is a sloping granite plinth which bears the names of the 362 dead. Above this is a substantial model of a rock with a facet incised ‘FOUNDERED / SUNDAY MARCH 9 / 1878’, and the ship’s anchor set upon it. The four sides of the base of the sculpture are inscribed with Bible passages: ‘I WILL BRING MY PEOPLE AGAIN FROM THE DEPTHS OF THE SEA. PSA LXVII:22 / WHICH HOPE WE HAVE AS AN ANCHOR OF THE SOUL. HEB VI:19 / AND THE SEA GAVE UP THE DEAD WHICH WERE IN IT. REV XX:13 / MY GOD IS THE ROCK OF MY REFUGE. PSA XCIV:22’.

Selected Sources

Websites

Heritage Category:
Listing

Country: Hampshire
District: Gosport
Parish: Non Civil Parish

For all entries pre-dating 4 April 2011 maps and national grid references do not form part of the official record of a listed building. In such cases the map here and the national grid reference are generated from the list entry in the official record and added later to aid identification of the principal listed building or buildings.

For all list entries made on or after 4 April 2011 the map here and the national grid reference do form part of the official record. In such cases the map and the national grid reference are to aid identification of the principal listed building or buildings only and must be read in conjunction with other information in the record.

Any object or structure fixed to the principal building or buildings and any object or structure within the curtilage of the building, which, although not fixed to the building, forms part of the land and has done so since before 1st July, 1948 is by law to be treated as part of the listed building.

This map was delivered electronically and when printed may not be to scale and may be subject to distortions.

Number: 1428092_1
Name: HMS Eurydice Memorial

Modern Ordnance Survey mapping: © Crown Copyright and database right 2016. All rights reserved. Ordnance Survey Licence number 100024900.

HistoricEngland.org.uk